ENTERTAINING HER BIG SISTER'S BEAU.

BY DEET HARTER.

"My sister'll be down in a minute, and says you're to wait, if you please; And says I might stay till she came, if I'd promise never to leave. Never speak till you spoke to the first. But that's nonsense, for how would you know? What she told me to say, if I didn't? Don't you really and truly think so?"

"And then you'd feel strange here alone! And you wouldn't know just where to sit; For that chair isn't strong on its legs, and we never use it a bit. We keep it to match with the sofa. But Jack says it would be just like you To flap yourself right down upon it and knock out the very last screw."

"Suppose you try! I won't tell. You're afraid to! Of you're afraid they would think it was mean. Well, then, there's the alcove—that's pretty, if your fingers are clean. For sister says sometimes I dabb it; but she only says that when she's cross. There's her picture. You know it. It's like her; but she ain't as good looking, of course."

"That is me. It's the best of 'em all. Now tell me, you'd never have thought That once I was little as that. It's the only one that could be bought— For that was the message to pa from the photograph man where I sat— That he wouldn't print off any more till he first got the money for that."

"What? Maybe you're tired of waiting; why often she's longer than this. There's all her back hair to do up, and all her front curls to friz. But it's nice to be sitting here talking like grown people, just you and me. Do you think you'll be coming here often? Oh, do! But don't come like Tom Lee."

"Tom Lee? Her last beau. Why, my goodness! He used to be here day and night. Till the folks thought he'd soon be her husband, and Jack said that gave him a fright. You won't run away then, as he did? for you're not a rich man, they say; Pa says you are as poor as a church-mouse. Now, are you? And how poor are they?"

"Ain't you glad that you met me? Well, I am; for I know your hair isn't red, But what there is left of it's mousey, and not what that naughty Jack said. But there! I must go. Sister's coming. But I wish I could wait, just to see If she ran up to you and kissed you in the way that she used to kiss Lee."

The English Language.

A fact not generally known, except, perhaps, to a class of instructors who have given the subject thought, is that a remarkable proficiency in the use of English can be attained without a knowledge of even the elementary principles of grammar as taught in books. Some of the purest and best writers have never taken the trouble to learn so much as the parts of speech. One well-known writer, whose purity of style and elegance of expression would grace the pages of any magazine in the country, never gave a day's time to the study of grammar.

Of course these are exceptional instances in which a native taste for composition and a habit of reading standard authors, have had much influence in molding style. Some people will never learn to write well with the best advantages, while others seem to fall into a good form of expression naturally.

The English language, for newspaper purposes, is more easily mastered by a habit of daily observation and inspection than by a study of text-books. The new dictionary will be welcome, but the American newspaper will never be bound by it, though it will contain 7,000 pages. St. Louis Republican.

THE New York Sun is agitating the guillotine question. It believes it better to chop a man's head off than to pull his back out of joint, but as long as the victim doesn't complain what's the use of a change?

A CELEBRATED physician for the insane says that these afflicted ones are more skillful in weaving mats than at any other trade or pursuit.

Public Schools of Salt Lake City.

The public schools are only nominally so. The school houses are oftener spoken of as ward meeting houses, and are used indifferently for Mormon worship and for schools. They were originally built by donations as meeting houses. The title to the land on which they are situated is in trustees, but whether these are sub-trustees for the Trustee in trust of the Church, or whether they act for the school district, is one of those things that "no fellow can find out." It is openly charged here that these buildings are all owned by the Church, and the charge is not disputed. But one thing is sure; if they are not owned by the several school districts, then there are no school houses at all so owned. They are repaired, added to, and renewed out of the public taxation. The teachers are all required to be Mormons; tuition fees are charged all the pupils, additional to the public tax; the grades of study are extremely low, and the teachers incompetent; the text books are carefully selected to see that nothing inimical to Mormonism is in them; and the Mormon doctrinal books are read and taught in these schools. They are, therefore, simply Mormon sectarian schools, supported largely at the public charge. Under these circumstances it is impossible for Americans to have their children educated in these schools, nor do they pretend to. Yet none the less is their property heavily taxed to maintain and support them, and the tax is much more a church tax than a school tax. In addition to this, the Americans have to pay for the schooling of their children in private schools, established and flourishing here under the control of the Episcopalians, Roman Catholics, Presbyterians, Congregationalists, and Methodists. The local taxing power is exclusively in the hands of the Mormons. The consequence is that Americans are assessed much higher than Mormons on similar property, and the latter receive large concessions besides, in the shape of remissions of taxes, which the county court is empowered to make, to the extent of $10 for each person. But taxes on Americans are not remitted. Neither are they able to obtain any showing of what is done with their money. In addition large blocks of the finest property in the city escape taxation under the pretense that they are owned by the Mormon Church, but not used for church purposes; and the collector's books show, besides, long columns of taxes paid by James Jack, Territorial Treasurer, probably out of the public moneys, on assessments against the favored ones of the faith. It is substantial grievances like these of which the Americans of Utah complain, and to which they point whenever the Mormons put forward their usual claim of good and fair administration of Territorial affairs. We don't hear of them putting forth any claims of this kind at home, reserving them for the outside world, where the knowledge of the facts is limited. But we submit that this is a showing which entitles the people of Utah to relief at the hands of their fellow citizens. They have long asked it, but have either got nothing or something ineffectual. Many other things might be named in the way of abuses in Utah, and many nullifications of Congressional law cited; but all can not be given in one newspaper, or in limited space. I quit here, with the explanation that I have used the word American as the reverse of Mormon. It is a distinction taught the Indians by the Mormons in past years, and many an "American" has been killed simply because he could not claim to be a Mormon. There is no reason why this distinction of their own should now be dropped when the conditions are changed. —Salt Lake City Letter.

The Postmaster-General directs that after the 1st of July, all letters on which full postage has been prepaid, instead of being forwarded to the dead letter office, shall be held by the postmasters of all letter carrier or free delivery offices, and the address informed by postal card that it is only necessary to remit the postage due to receive the letter.

The Ways and Means Committee of congress on Thursday heard the reports of the sub-committee appointed to investigate the changes made by John D. White, of Kentucky in connection with the bonded period whisky bill. The report was unanimous and exonerates General Raum, commissioner of the Internal Revenue from imputations made against him.

Col. JONSON, the jailer, of Clark county, was indicted at the last term of the Circuit Court for neglect of duty in permitting Henry Boone, a prisoner, to go about the streets instead of confining him in the jail in pursuance of his sentence. The trial came off last week, and the jailer was found guilty and his office adjudged to be vacant. This is the way to secure fidelity in such county offices.

The BULLETIN frankly admits that it is not thoroughly acquainted with the rules and ways of racing associations. It therefore asks for the following information: Is it customary for racing organizations to exclude from their grounds all newspapers? Is it also customary for such associations to refuse to the press information from the racing record? These are a few points upon which we need enlightenment.

We do not doubt that Mr. DeGarano, the Chicago party, made his contract for the high privileges he enjoyed, with an officer of the Association, or that he paid the money due for the same to the Club's treasurer. Nor have we any criticism to make about his doing so—what we desire to know is this. Who was interested in the profits realized from the advertisements printed on the card that was sold for ten cents. Was any of the profits made received by the printing office of the Association's secretary or by any person or persons connected with it. Or, in other words, were all the other advertisements of the city excluded for the benefit of any person or persons connected with the printing office of the Secretary? That is what we want to know.

THE curtain's down, the Trotting Club,
Now vamous like a flash,
With second hand indulgences,
Very cheap for cash.
And we must say, the Racing Club,
Ungracefully exit,
But then, that Secretary ente,
Is principally it.

CHARLES COX, a son of Rev. J. T. Cox, of Tollesboro, is ill and not expected to recover.

THERE will be services at the M. E. Church, South, to-morrow at 11 a. m., and 8 p. m.

NOTWITHSTANDING the great crowd here during the week, there has been very little disorder.

THE high protective tariff system as applied to Race Associations is not going to be popular.

A STURGEON that weighed fifty-one and a half a half pounds was caught a few days ago in Licking River on a trot line by a young man named Mitchell, near Park's Ferry.

SOME of the turfmen who were here this week say there is no better track in the United States than this, and that the racing has been as fine as on any course in the country this season.

THE regular circulation of the DAILY BULLETIN in Maysville and the neighborhood is five hundred copies. As it goes every day, rain or shine, its value as an advertising medium will be appreciated by the business men of the city.

Matinee.

Manager Gabriel announces a matinee by his troupe at the opera house, this afternoon, at half past two o'clock, to which the admission will be twenty five cents. A fine programme will be presented. The company is a really good one and deserves better patronage than it has received during its engagement here.

MISS NELLIE BURKE is certainly a daring and graceful rider, and under the circumstances, has done remarkably well. But for the unforeseen failure to appear of the lady who was to ride against her, she would have carried out her contract with the Trotting Club to the letter. As it was she and the club as well, did all that could be done under the circumstances.

WE are informed that the Secretary of the Trotting Association is going to issue a card to show that he was not personally interested in the profits arising from the sale of that little advertising card at the trotting track that kept all the other advertisements of the city off the grounds. The DAILY BULLETIN is at his service for the publication of the card, which we will add should be broad enough in explanation to show that not only he, but no one else connected with his printing office, was so interested. An explanation of this kind will be satisfactory to the public and no other.

THE RACES.

Five Mile Running Race by Miss Nellie Burke and Mr. Robert Liter—Highland Stranger and J. B. Thomas Winners in the 2:33 and 2:17 Classes Respectively.

Yesterday, the closing day of the spring meeting of the Maysville Trotting Association, was bright and beautiful. The sky was never bluer, the hills greener, nor the air balmer. It was a day of all days, and a fitting one for the winding up of a successful meeting. The deterred running race announced by "yaller hand-bills," printed at the office of the Associations' Secretary to take place on the closing day, brought a larger attendance than usual, and induced many ladies from the city and neighborhood to grace the grounds with their presence.

The ten-mile running race was changed by the "yaller hand-bill" to "A Big Race," and proved to be a five-mile race and a very tame affair. Miss Burke was badly mounted but rode well under the circumstance. Mr. Liter is an excellent equestrian and rode in his best style. The time is as follows:

	Burke.	Liter.
First mile.....	2.19	2.47
Second mile.....	2.43	2.43

HUMORS OF THE DAY.

The nobbiest thing in boots is a bunion.

Song of the cheese—"Will you love me when I mould?"

A STOCKHOLDER in a street railway company—the driver.

THE proof of the pudding is the rapidity with which the children get away with it.

"WELL, I'll be bound," as the man remarked when he heard quoted the lines, "Chains of gold are fetters still."

A MAN who "traveled on his shape" insulted a young lady, and her father knocked him down and traveled on his shape, too—walked all over him.

THAT little girl unwittingly gave utterance to the principles of many of her elders when she wrote in her composition: "We should make mistakes and tell lies as seldom as it is convenient."

GIRLS should be careful how they are vaccinated with virus taken from a lover's arm. One at St. Paul has taken to swearing, sitting cross-legged, and smoking a brier root pipe.—Detroit Free Press.

MR. BROWN wants to punish the liquor drinker as well as the liquor seller. Fogg says he will go a step beyond Mr. Brown. He wants the liquor itself punished and he is willing to punish all he can of it.—Boston Transcript.

"PA," ASKED Fogg's hopeful, the other evening, "what kind of combs do you use to curvy chickens with?" "Cox-combs," replied Fogg, promptly. Fogg says he believes in always answering a child when you can.—Boston Transcript.

"No," SAID Gallagher, "I don't keep a bull-dog because I want a dog to fight. I'd rather give $50 than have my dog fight. But by Judas, I do like the satisfaction of feeling that he can chew the stuffing out of any blame dog that comes along."

"ALAS, we must part," as the coat-tails said when the street-car passenger took his seat. "But we'll meet again," as the coat-tails said when three fat women got aboard. "United we stand," as the coat-tails said "for the rest of the ride."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

THEY tell of a man out West who was putting a blast in a well, and it went off prematurely and blew him out into an apple tree about fifty feet away. In a moment he recovered himself, and remarking, "The Lord knows better than I do after all; I guess it is almost time to go pruning," took a large pruning knife from his pocket and set to work.

FUN at a dinner party: The youngest gentleman (it is his first visit) has broken the ice at last by inquiring the name of the hostess' little daughter, to which the child has replied "Ethel." "And why, Ethel, do you keep patting me on the arm?" "Because mamma says your a muf!"—(awful pause, during which the child strokes him down)—"but you don't feel like one, you know." Tableau: child complacent—nobody else.—Judy.

A Fair Average.

The Oil City Derrick has heard so many stories about narrow escapes, thrilling incidents and strange coincidences during the late war, that it begins to think the whole number of truthful anecdotes of this kind must be pretty near exhausted. It would certainly seem as though they had all been told, and what are now being related are for newspaper purposes; but we don't know. There were a good many instances in the late war where somebody came very near having a narrow escape, but missed, and he is now fertilizing Southern soil. There were also lots of what would have been strange coincidences, but they did not quite make the canon; and there were thrilling incidents that nobody knows anything about, for sufficient reasons. No; we guess it is hardly time yet to stop relating new anecdotes of the late war. Those that are now being related may be bald faced fabrications, and we presume many of them are; but they will serve to supply the place of incidents that occurred of which no one was left to tell the tale, and upon the whole there will be a fair average.

PILES! PILES! PILES!

A Sure Cure Found at Last—No One Need Suffer!

A sure cure for blind, bleeding, itching and ulcerated piles has been discovered by Dr. William, (an Indian remedy,) called Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of twenty-five or thirty years standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions, instruments and electricities do more harm than good. Williams' Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching, (particularly at night after getting warm in bed,) acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for piles, itching of the private parts, and nothing else.

Read what the Hon. J. M. Coffinberry, of Cleveland, says about Dr. Williams' Pile Ointment: "I have used scores of pile cures, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gave me such immediate and permanent relief as Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment."

Skin Diseases Cured

BY DR. FRAZIER'S MAGIC OINTMENT. Cure as if by magic, pimples, black head or grubs, blotches and eruptions on the face, leaving the skin clear, healthy and beautiful. Also cures itch, barber's itch, salt rheum, tetter, ringworm, scald head, chapped hands, sore nipples, sore lips, old obstinate ulcers and sores, &c.

SKIN DISEASE.

F. Drake, Esq., Cleveland, O., suffered beyond all description from a skin disease which appeared on his hands, head and face, and nearly destroyed his eyes. The most careful doctoring failed to help him, and after all had failed he used Dr. Frazier's Magic Ointment and was cured by a few applications.

The first and positive cure for skin diseases ever discovered.

For blind, bleeding, itching or ulcerated piles, Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment is a sure cure. Price $1, by mail. For sale by George T. Wood, druggist.

Dr. Frazier's Root Bitters.

Frazier's Root Bitters are not a dram-shop whisky beverage, but are strictly medicinal in every sense. They act strongly upon the liver and kidneys, keep the bowels open and regular, make the weak strong, heal the lungs, build up the nerves and cleanse the blood and system of every impurity.

For dizziness, rush of blood to the head tending to apoplexy, dyspepsia, fever and ague, dropsy, pimples and blotches, scrofulous humors and sores, tetter, ring worm, white swelling, erysipelas, sore eyes and for young men suffering from weakness or debility caused from imprudence, and to females in delicate health, Frazier's Root Bitters are especially recommended.

Dr. Frazier: I have used two bottles of your Root Bitters for dyspepsia, dizziness, weakness and kidney disease, and they did me more good than the doctors and all the medicine I ever used. From the first dose I took I began to mend, and I am now in perfect health, and feel as well as I ever did. I consider your medicine one of the greatest blessings.
